^^^ SHORT STORY OF THE DAY.

ŏooooooooo 🔷 oooooooooo THE THANKSGIVING OF MRS. REBECCA TODD.

Mary E. Wilkins, in the New York. The week before Thanksgiving the sew ing circle in our village met at Mrs. Nathan Tucker's, and there was a full meeting. though everybody was busy cooking for Thanksgiving. The Tucker house was redolent with spice, and boiled cider, and mincement. Mrs. Tucker had told several, redolent with spice, and boiled cider, and mineemeat. Mrs. Tucker had told several, confidentially, that she did not know how to have the circle. The members were most of them late, with the exception of Rebecca Todd. She is a widow and lives alone and has nobody to cook for, except herself, and besides she was invited to spend. Thanksgiving with her brother.

Rebecca Todd is a fast sewer, and she had a missionary apron almost finished by the time the others arrived; she had talked every minute, too. Mrs. Todd is noted for her conversational powers. She politely gave an inkiling of the topic under discussion to every newcomer, took up the threads, as it were, for her inspection, then proceeded. Everybody, with the exception of Maria Hopkins, listened respectfully. Mrs. Todd is considered a smart woman, and, besides, she is well to do, has the finest house in town and the best furniture. Maria Hopkins, who has her own opinions, listened rather contemptuously once in a while she sniffed, in a way she has, and screwed her forehead tight over her sewing. She has never liked Rebecca Todd since they were girls together. Mrs. Todd triked, and talked, scarcely any one else said a word. When the last comer, Mrs. Stephen Pendergrass, entered, she had just begun to relate a Thanksgiving experience of hers, which she considered remarkable, as, Maria whispered, she considered most experiences of her own. "I should think she would be astonished because they never put the day she was born into the almanac to calculate the weather from," whispered Maria, and the minister's wife who sat next her and is considered too young and gidy by some folks for a minister's wife who sat next her and is considered too young and gidy by some folks for a minister's wife who sat next her and is considered too young and gidy by some folks for a minister's wife who sat her bod that she turned fore you were married, Mrs. Todd, may I ask?" said she.

Rebecca Todd looed sharply at her.
"Much as ten years," said she, "Why?"
"Nothing," said Maria, but I could see that she was figuring in her head. After a while, when Mrs. Todd was talking about something else, she broke right in. "I've got something to say," said she, "You were 17 years old when you were married. Rebecca Todd, and now you are trying to make it out that you were only 7 years old when you did such a day's work as that."

Rebecca Todd colored as red as a beet, and a kind of quiver seemed to go all over ther, but she looked Maria full in the fact. "Well, what of it," said she, "I'd on't believe one word of it," said Maria.
"You can believe it or not just as you're MAGNETIC and osteopathic treatments

"T don't believe one word of it," said Maria.

"You can believe it or not, just as you're a mind to," said Rebecca Todd, "but I'm telling it, and I was never known to tell a lie in my whole life."

Well, Mrs. Todd's special Thanksgiving had divided our sewing circle. Half sided with her, and half believed she told a wickde lie, and is not fit to be associated with us in mission work. To this day nobody knows whether she really had that special Thanksgiving, when she was 7 years old or not; but the sewing circle is divided, and this week before Thanksgiving, one part meets with Mrs. Henry Mixter and the other part meets with ME.
